Working in these walls of Time, Some with massive deeds and great, Some with ornaments of rhyme. Nothing uscless is or low;

And what seems but idle show Strengthens and supports the rest. - For the structure that we raise, V Time is with materials filled; Our to-days and vesterdays

Are the blocks with which we build, Truly shape and fashion these; Leave no yawning gaps between: Think not, because no man sees, Such things will remain unseen,

In the elder days of art Bullders wrought with greatest care Ench minute and unseen part; For the gods see everywhere.

Let us do our work as well, Both the unseen and the seen;
 Make the house where gods may dwell, Beautiful, entire and clean.

Else our lives are incomplete Standing on these walls of Time-Broken stairways where the feet Stumble as they seek to climb.

Build to.day, then, strong and sure, With a firm and ample base; And ascending and secure
Shall to-morrow find its place.

Thus alone can we attain To these turrets where the eye Sees the worlds as one vast plain, And one houndless reach of sky

Freezing the Brain.

4 The discovery that the brain of a living animal could be frozen, and afterward could recover, was made by Dr. James Arnott, who solidified the brain of a pigeon by exposing it to a freezing mixture, Here research stopped, because with an ordinary freezing mixture it was not possible to act on individual parts of the organ; but the impertance of the discovery is not the less on that account. It took in light and form and color by the eye; it took in sound by the ear; sensation and substance by the touch; odor by the nostrils, and taste by the mouth; it gave out in return or response, animal motion, expressionall else that demonstrates a living animal. With it the animal was an animal; without it the animal was turned into a mere vegetable. And this organ, the very center and soul of the organism, was, by mere physical experiment, for a time made dead-all its powers ice-bound. And this organ again set free, received its functions

POTATO RIBBONS .- To make potato-ribbons, cut the potatoes into slices rather less than an inch thick, free them from the skins, and then pare round and round in very thin and ong ribbons; place them in a pan of cold water, and, a short time they are wanted on the table, drain them from the water. Fry them in boiling lard or good drippings until they are quite crisp and browned; drain and dry them on a soft cloth, pile them on a hot dish, and season them with salt and cayenne in fine powder.

As fences are frequently renewed in the fall, we would suggest that around each post used in fencing there should be closely packed a small mound of clay mould which will keep the post-hole from filling with water and add to the longevity of the post. In setting fence posts in ground liable to heave, a 11 inch pin should be placed through the bottom of the post with its end projecting. The wind would thus effect it less and the frost ran not raise it. Germaniown Tele
